October 21, 2015: It's the Day Marty McFly went 30 years into the future in the "Back to the Future" films. It's also today...well...actually it's going to be less and less today as that point in history becomes more and more historical.

But it's an excellent time to ponder the differences between 1985 and 2015--especially with regards to smartphones, the Internet, and Social Media.
